THE ALMOST FOREVER. The online diary that appeared on Famitsu detailing the card battle RPG that will make appearances at PAX Prime in Seattle. At present that is, as right now I don't have a copy of the English game nor a copy of the Japanese game. Anyway, check out the pictures! A new card fighting genre action game, El Shaddai: Ascension of the Metatron? The soundtrack at PAX Prime offers a new take on the theme of El Shaddai, assuming to have at least part of the theme. The central character is Alza, a skilled violin player who trains herself to become a cosplay type of girl. The main protagonist is also a friend of hers, a kid named Remy named "befriend the player". You can assume that you are a "shaddie" through a session. At the start of the game, Alza will partner and marry with Remy so that the two can have a child. However, the action will change when Alza contracts a disease and then becomes unrecognizable. Meanwhile, no more than a few years have passed and god has appeared. Alza, the God of War: The God of Stories? Alza who lost in the war was made into a God, taking over human history and turning mankind into a terrible and monstrous race. Alza will liberate humanity from God's grasp. "Shaddia", derived from the phrase "Shaddai", God. The first player character is Alza, also known as "Shaddia". Assumed to be a representation of the Christian God's oppression of mankind, she strives to be the Savior of mankind and a God who beckons us to die and live again. Remy, the Sound of History: The Warrior God? As a little child, Remy unites in the noise of the 'Alza' and trains hard. He stands out like a shining sword in the struggles. Remy, the God of Heaven will be fighting against the God of Chaos and Armageddon. Whether to uphold the rule of mankind or God. Azlya, the Metal of Support: The Angel of Life? Azlya as a high school

Q: JUnit4 TestNG: Specify two classes for one test case Is it possible to have two classes in one test case with JUnit4 and TestNG? The first class is just a normal JUnit test case. The second class is used to find whether a certain string exists. public class FirstTest extends TestCase{ public void testSomething(){ ... } } public class SecondTest extends TestCase{ public void testStringExists(){ String first = "..."; boolean isStringExist = strExist(first); } } The problem is that the second testcase ("SecondTest") executes before the first testcase ("FirstTest"). I want to execute the second test before the first test, to make sure that the result is correct before executing the actual test. I don't want to do this in the TestNG.xml because the first test case is already compiled and its result can be verified. A: In your case, you need to make a test suite and annotate it with @BeforeClass and @AfterClass. See JUnit 4 Annotations: The annotations in this section are used to define the arrangement of test cases in a single test suite. Annotation values that define one or more test methods, annotated with @BeforeClass and @AfterClass, will be run before and after
